Optimal Health Begins with the Liver*

Your liver is one of the hardest working organs in your body. Liver health impacts the functionality of all body systems.

The 3 Most Valuable Players in Liver Health*

Standardized for high levels of beneficial compounds, these premium ingredients deliver the ultimate support for liver health and detoxification.*

Milk Thistle enhances liver function and detoxification. This formula features a milk thistle complex that is standardized to silybin, a potent compound in a highly absorbable form.*

Andrographis EP80™ is a scientifically studied extract, standardized to 20% andrographolides to deliver 40 mg per capsule of this key compound for maximum benefits. This herb has long been recognized in Ayurvedic practice for overall liver support.*

French Grape Seed Extract VX1® is unlike any other grape seed available. Delivering tannin-free, 100% absorbable oligomeric proanthocyanidins (OPCs), it protects liver cells from the risk of oxidative stress and damage.*

Frequently Asked Questions for Total Liver Support*

Q. Is this product only for short-term liver detoxification support?

A. Total Liver Support can be taken when desired for short-term use, or as a daily supplement for ongoing liver support.*

Q. Why is daily support for liver function important?

A. Virtually all of the nutrients we consume must be processed in some manner by the liver. The liver filters out toxins, creates bile to help break down nutrients from food in the digestive system, and produces much-needed lipids that are assembled into hormones for the body's many functions. Therefore, supporting the liver is really about supporting optimal well-being throughout the body.*

Q. Why is this milk thistle extract standardized for silybin?

A. One of milk thistle's beneficial compounds is silybin, which is a core component of another milk thistle compound called silymarin. While research supports the benefits of silymarin, many of those outcomes may be due to silybin. Silybin represents up to 70 percent of silymarin, so it is a major component of the botanical, and typically more bioavailable (especially when bound to a phospholipid that enhances absorption in the intestines). Research shows that silybin helps protect liver cells from oxidative stress and damage, so they can effectively process nutrients and filter out toxins.*

Q. Isn't andrographis typically used for immune support? Why is it in Total Liver Support?

A. Andrographis is often thought of as an immune supporting botanical, especially in recent years, when it has been clinically studied for its powerful immune benefits. However, in Ayurvedic and other traditional practice, andrographis has always been considered a primary herb for supporting detoxifying pathways in the liver. Like milk thistle, andrographis protects liver cells from oxidative stress and damage, and supports overall liver function.*

Q. Why does it matter that your grape seed extract is tannin-free?

A. Tannins are a form of oligomeric proanthocyanin (OPC) found in grape seeds. As a result, they are found in many grape seed extracts sold as supplements. However, unlike the tannin-free OPCs in Total Liver Support, they have a high molecular weight, which makes them very difficult for the body to absorb. Total Liver Support contains French grape seed extract VX1®, which delivers only low-molecular weight OPCs for consistent bioavailability and liver-supporting benefits.*
